Spirituality

Spirituality and culture are closely linked. How we treat others, what and when we eat and drink, how we interact with – and transcend – the everyday world are all affected by our spiritual orientation. Our spiritual commitments may prompt us to seek social change, travel to sacred places, and follow certain rituals to put us in touch with something beyond humdrum living. We might signal our identification with a particular spiritual group by our outward appearance, and demand that our voices be heard in the corridors of power, but be acutely aware of other groups with competing ideologies that we still value as part of the broader culture.

Spirituality And ... Culture inaugurates an exciting new series of inclusive interdisciplinary projects that focus on the significance of spirituality to human living, thinking and feeling in today's world. This event will explore the interactions between spirituality, culture and social phenomena. Indicative themes around which the event will be structured will include (but not be limited to): Spirituality and Food (eg fasting; Lent; Ramadan; feasting; dietary laws; kosher, halal, prohibitions; alcohol; transubstantiation; cannibalism; puja; monastic asceticism; vegetarianism; mindful eating; soul food Spirituality and Travel (eg pilgrimages; spiritual tourism; retreats; sacred spaces; migration in a globalized economy; porous communities) Spiritual Practices (eg belief-centred vs. practice-centred religion; changing liturgies; newer forms of worship; 'meditation in the classroom; mindfulness; attention and distraction; Steiner, Krishnamurti etc; schools with religious ethos; madrasa; religious education versus religious training) Spirituality and interfaith relations (eg meditation as common ground between world religions; development of a global ethic; Dalai Lama/Kung conversations; conversion and apostasy; immigration; cultural clashes involving spiritual orientation; jihad; crusades) Spirituality and politics (eg church and state; theocracies; Hindutva; religion in the private sphere and public square; clash of secular and spiritual ideologies [such as the 'gay cake' incident in Northern Ireland, cow vigilantes in India]; shariah compliant banking; anti-consumerism; fundamentalist atheism; claims of indigenous peoples to sacred geographies) Spirituality, liberation and oppression (eg transcendence as escape from misery; human rights; religious tolerance; secular intolerance of religion; discrimination; extremism; misogyny; homophobia) Spirituality and identity (eg religious symbols – hijab, turban, cross, kippah; communities of faith, 'Spiritual but not religious'; census categories; non-religious forms of spirituality; yoga; mindfulness; non-religious Buddhism; 'anonymous' Christianity).
