

CHAPTER - 8

Future Scope of Research

---

Future Scope of Research:

Social metabolism is the organic expansion of energy metabolism. The new age extension research should aim at methodological pursuits to cardinally estimate the motivation input against the accomplishment made. The residual motivation needs to undergo a kind of socio-institutional recycling, but it lacks operational research support. The intrinsic auditing on residual motivation, against zero accomplishment, may add more psychic chaos and disorder. With pace of time, the society has to absorb more stress, confront more conflict and ,the need for alternative way of imbibing social pacifier would direct the destiny of future research on social metabolism.

The unabated impoverishment in soil fertility status, depletion of ground water beyond the limit of resilience,

Absence of monthly income, swashbuckling presence of heavy metal toxicity and poverty of technical knowledge, all led to a hecatomb of defeated agriculture , unless proper protective and regenerative measures are undertaken .

---

Future research on social metabolism will pave the way for welcome livelihood, a hassle free journey for achieving secured and dignified status for the farmers and rural diasporas at large