

Religion, Art and Culture Contribution towards India

Shaheer PM

*Research Scholar, Trissur, Kerala, India
Student at KKHM Islamic and Arts College
Affiliated to co-ordination of Islamic colleges.
University of Calicut
E-mail: shaheer8679@gmail.com*

Abstract—Does India have a unique culture? Or is it transformed from different religions?

A mother nation that gave birth for nearly 9 religions, spread with 22 languages is well known worldwide for its religious thoughts, art forms and cultures. It is a crystal clear fact that religions had a vital contribution in building up the Indian culture. Religion which defines god, culture which describes humanity and art which displays these both, all are interconnected. Thus transformation of religious cultures had created numerous Indian cultures in past as well as in present. Different art forms has created sturdiness in India. Unique styles in dressing, food etc. are all associated with religion. Thus religion, art and culture all together defines India

Keywords: Transformation of culture, art in religion, culture in food, dress and lifestyle, effect of modern laws on culture and religion, changing culture and changing India.